Workshop Description:

The purpose of this workshop is to help current and future educators become fluent in using 21st Century Learning Design Rubrics developed with support of Microsoft. This course will help teachers and administrators have a better understanding of what 21st century skills learners should be practicing in courses. It will provide rubrics to effectively measure if teachers/administrators/environments are providing the opportunity for those skills to be practiced, and coaching/facilitation of those rubrics into current practice.

Presenter: Chris Wyant
