Using Google Slides To Create Interactive Digital Environments

---

Workshop Description:

Google Slides is a favorite digital classroom tool for educators. This class will present examples and resources that can be used to create interactive virtual environments designed to provide students with a fun and visual way to explore content with Google Slides. The first portion of the class will focus on Google Slides (features, tips and tricks) and the second part will provide participants with exploration time and hands-on practice in creating interactive digital slides.

Presenter: Lisa Cundiff

Lisa Cundiff is the Director of Instructional Technology for Haysville USD 261 public schools. She has a BA in Education from Arkansas State University and a ME in Educational Administration from Wichita State University.
