The Cost Of Unresolved Conflict

Workshop Description:

Conflict spreads quickly and can take over a work culture. In this workshop you will:

- Understand the cost of unresolved conflict within an organization
- Discover the five steps of understanding and resolving conflict
- Learn & develop a process for creating an action plan to resolve the conflict

The first half of the day will be focused on understanding where a conflict is coming from and the cost it has on your team, you, and or development.

The second part of the day will be focused on resolution. We all play some type of role in conflict by either, participating in it, not speaking up, not addressing it, shying away from difficult conversations or, from our fear of sharing it with higher level leaders.

We want you to walk away from this workshop having the tools, confidence & understanding to elevate you and your team's development.

Presenter: Jennifer Griffin

Jen Griffin is a leadership coach to executives & teams who know they are ready to make a leap but find themselves holding back. She distills her extensive experience as a corporate paralegal in high-stakes negotiation, fundraising, and business into build high-performance teams and braver executives. Jen's specialty is coaching her clients through the fear-based mindsets that limit their results and their happiness, so they can motivate themselves to take bigger risks.

After leaving the corporate world, Jen was the Founder & Executive Director of a foundation that offered financial resources for amputee youth in the arts, sports, and education. She developed partnerships and collaborations with Nike, Scottish Rite Hospital, The Food Network, and the Dallas Symphony, to name a few. As an amputee herself, Jen became addicted to overcoming fear and "personal limitations". She has been a speaker, an opinion writer for the Dallas Morning News, and featured on Good Morning Texas, the Huffington Post, Smithsonian Magazine, and others.
